

NCCCO Written Exam - Computer Testing

There is now the option to take the NCCCO written exams on the computer at a PSI testing facility

Follow these steps to sign up for the computerized written exam:

1. Go to <https://onlineforms.nccco.org/CBT-application-prerequisites.aspx> to complete and submit the online application and exam payment.

If you already have an NCCCO card, make sure you check the box when asked or you may be charged the full fee. You will receive an Authorization Email from NCCCO within 48 hours.*

2. After submitting your CBT application online, you will receive an authorization email within 24 hours. After receiving the authorization email you will need to wait an additional 24 hours before calling to schedule your exam. CBT testing centers will accommodate your request to test at the earliest date and time available. You can look up the available test centers by going to <http://cert.psiexams.com/locateall.html>

3. Go to the selected test center at the scheduled date and time. Bring with you your photo ID and Authorization Email. Once you have completed your computer-based tests you will receive your official score results before you leave the test center.

NOTE: The Operating Engineers Training Trust does reimburse eligible members after they obtain certification and submit a copy of their card or scores to the Training office. Only the "paper and pencil testing" fees are reimbursed, not the additional fees for the computer based testing. Contact the office to learn if you are eligible for reimbursement.
